

DDS Email Notes- Week of 11/14

Good Morning DDS Members,

Hope you all had a great weekend and an excellent time in the Bay Area for those who went up for the weekender. With this being said, apologies for the late submission of this week's newsletter, I was just feeling a bit under the weather before and needed the time to recover. However, all is great now and somehow we are nearing the end of the semester, something that still to this day never ceases to amaze me. You have all been wonderful, but please if you have any questions or concerns regarding your points or how else you can get involved with DDS, please do not hesitate to contact us and as always, thank you for being who you are.

Without further ado, here are this week's announcements:
